TOURISTS VISITED
SOUTHERN STATES FARMSPENT THE AFTERNOON THERE YESTERDAY—WENT OUT IN A SPECIAL COACH AND ALSO VISITED MUSCOGEE MILLS.A party of fifty-five tourists from the north visited the Southern States Lumber Company's farm near Cantonment and the mills of the Company at Muscogee yesterday.A special coach was attached to the 12:15 p. m. train for the accommodation of the party.
At Cantonment this coach was taken in charge by the Southern States Company and switched down to the company's farm, where more than two hours were spent. Every department of the farm was inspected and there was no limit to the expressions of surprise by members of the party at the excellent character of the soil, the enormous results obtained on this magnificent example of what this recently discovered country is capable of agriculturally.From the farm, the party was taken to Muscogee for an inspection of the fine plant of the Southern States Company located there. Two hours were spent at Muscogee.The party was in charge of Mr. P.
K. Yonge, president of the Southern States Company, and Secretary W. C.
Jones, of the Chamber of Commerce, and returned to the city at 7 p. m.

Perfect Confidence.
Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence.
This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I.
Basford, of Poolsyville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by all druggists.

Substitute For Candles.
There were two substitutes for candles. The one was the ancient oil lamp, the croosie (French creuset), a triangular metal saucer with an upright hook at the base to be hung up by. There was an inner saucer, movable, to graduate the use of the oil. At the apex of the angle was flame, coming from a wick made of pitch of rushes, which must be cut at full moon, as the flame was thought to wax and wane with the moon if cut at any other time. The other substitute for the candle was the bog candle. It was made by splitting up the resinous logs of the primeval fir that are found imbedded in the bogs.

They were left to dry at the fireside over the crack or chain that held up the pot over the fire. The candlestick, called the peerman, was a stone with a hole in its center, into which was fixed a pillar of wood about four feet high and tipped with a cleft piece of iron, into which the candle fitted. The nose of the candle was always turned to the door.—Blackwood's Magazine.

When Japanese Maids Are Jilted.
A Japanese woman when abandoned by her lover takes a peculiar and picturesque revenge.

When she no longer has any doubt as to his faithlessness, she gets up in the middle of the night and puts on a pleasing dress and wooden sandals.
Attached to her headpiece she carries three lighted candles, and suspended to her neck hangs a small mirror. She takes in her left hand a small straw effigy of the faithless one, and in her right a hammer and nails.

Walking gravely to the sanctuary, she selects one of the sacred trees, and nails the effigy securely to the trunk.
She then prays for the death of the traitor, vowing that if her wish is granted she will take out the nails which trouble her god, since they are fastened to a sacred tree. Night after night she comes to the tree, adding one or two nails and repeating her prayers, persuaded that the god will not hesitate to sacrifice the man to save the tree.—London Mail.

A Floral Mystery.
The Chinese, Japanese and Siamese are peculiarly skillful at botanical feats. One of their wonderful achievements is known as the "changeable rose." This bloom is white in the shade and red in the sunlight. After night or in a dark room this curiosity of the rose family is a pure, waxy white blossom. When transferred to the open air, the transformation immediately steps in, the time of the entire change of the flower from white to red depending on the degree of sunlight and warmth. First the petals take on a kind of washed or faded blue color and rapidly change to a faint blush of pink. The pink gradually deepens in hue until you find that your lily white rose of an hour before is as red as the reddest peony that ever bloomed.

Auctions in China.
To a stranger a Chinese auction is a most curious spectacle. The auctioneer leans over a slightly elevated counter and exhibits his wares. He says nothing, neither does the bidder, who merely steps forward to the auctioneer and runs his fingers up his sleeve, making pressure on the salesman's arm, thus indicating how much he will pay for the article. Then another and another repeat the action until the one significantly the highest price receives the article without a word being exchanged on either side. Only the auctioneer and the successful bidder know the price offered and accepted.

FOR THE NEW BATTLE HOUSEMAGNIFICENT NEW EDIFICE MAY BE ERECTED ON RUINS OF OLD STRUCTURE.The Mobile Item says: There are rumors and rumors of the construction of a magnificent hotel building on the site of the old Battle House, recently destroyed. It is said that there are conditions upon which the erection of the building hinges, and therefore, at this time nothing definite can be settled.

But on the matter there is plenty of room and excuse for speculation. It is safe to say that every citizen of Mobile is anxious to see erected upon that spot an up-to-date hotel structure, such as will be demanded by Mobile even at the present time, or within a very short time, if the city continues its present rapid strides to the front.
The erection of such a hotel building upon that site need in no wise interfere with any other plans that may be in existence looking to the building of another great hotel in the city.
There is no better recommendation for a city than ample and first-class hotel accommodations. Such attracts business from every quarter, and adds a pleasure in visiting a city that makes of it a mecca for thousands of visitors who would not otherwise come.

The Item hopes the New Battle House will be constructed on the old site. While there is no doubt that imposing buildings of some kind will stand on this corner, there is a connection with the present and the past in the name of the Battle House that makes us rather see the historic name and hotel perpetuated in a magnificent steel structure that would stand through ages to come representing historic old Mobile of a century past.

TOMB OF ANTIQUITIES
DISCOVERED IN CAIRO.

By Associated Press.
New York, Feb. 17.—An American Egyptologist, Theodore M. Davis, has, according to a Herald dispatch from Cairo, discovered a royal tomb in the neighborhood of Luxor full of antiquities, including intact a sarcophagus, a chariot, furniture and numerous other relics of a past age.

The tomb was informally opened in the presence of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught.

FOR TWELVE MONTHS—PE-CULIAR SITUATION.

Tampa, Feb. 17.—The famous cigar smuggling cases have been continued for twelve months, the asking of the government for a continuance having been granted by Judge Boardman in the United States court Tuesday afternoon. The Judge having declined to accept the pleas of guilty made by Messrs. Williamson, Lovelace and Brannan, set the trial for Tuesday, when in anticipation of the hearing of the cases, the courtroom was crowded with spectators. But the curious ones were doomed to disappointment, for United States District Attorney Leaken, of Savannah, who is assisting District Attorney Stripling in the prosecution of the cases, announced at the morning session that he would submit a motion for a continuance in view of the fact that the government had important witnesses to introduce who were at a distance and could not be conveniently reached in time for trial at this term of the court. Judge Boardman set 3 o'clock in the afternoon for a hearing of the motion, and shortly after that hour Attorney Leaken submitted a lengthy motion setting forth that the government was unprepared to go to trial, owing to the peculiar turn which the cases had taken by reason of the defendants agreeing through their counsel to a plea of guilty and then when interrogated personally by the court as to the several counts in the indictments against them, had denied their guilt of each separate count.

Counsel for the defendants, Messrs.
Sparkman, H. Carter and Thomas Palmer, interposed no objection to the continuance. This postponed for at least a year the trial of these cases which have created so much interest in legal circles, and it is pretty generally the opinion that the result will be an indefinite postponement.

NEGRO CAUGHT AND SHOT TO PIECES.

By Associated Press.
Smithville, Tex., Feb. 17.—The negro charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. Powell Tiffany was caught late last night and shot to pieces by the mob. He was identified and made a full confession. He was run to earth at Urdon, a small town about six miles from here. In his confession the negro implicated three others and it is also said that there were three women involved in the crime. Two of these parties have been arrested and the third is now being sought.
While searching for the negro, the Smithville mob found, hanging to a tree, the body of a Mexican taken from officers and hung earlier in the evening.

Life Assurance Makes a Young Man Capitalist.

It gives him a prodigious advantage over every other young man who has no life assurance. It harnesses a man up to his best fate.
With an assurance policy on his life, it at once becomes a piece of marketable merchandise, or collateral, often enabling him to obtain valuable results in life which he could never otherwise obtain. Then, too, it cultivates a habit of thrift and economy, which is a young man's most valuable asset in life. Your future is assured if you have
